The Newsletter for Heather Hiestand, Eilis Flynn, and Anh Leod

FEBRUARY 2011

Days of Hearts and Roses

Valentine's season is upon us, and Heather is celebrating with a holiday-themed release from eTreasures Publishing! "The Bachelor" is part of the Cupid Gone Wild anthology available now from major e-tailers as well as in paperback. Look for details on Twitter at hashtag #cgw11.

In addition to promoting this new release, which will include a major blog tour in February resulting in a major prize giveaway, Heather and Eilis are feverishly working away on their secret project. It's so close to done that they can taste it! Wish us luck in navigating the agent obstacle course!

Now, Heather Hiestand's "The Bachelor":

Abbie Harper didn't mean to bid on the date, but one look at Jake Cordalys and she's ready for red-hot romance. Jake isn't looking for something complicated, but when Cupid is involved, all plans go out the window and romance flies in.

Cupid's Report – In Progress

Cupid 1127 here.

I first encountered Unlikely Subject Abbie Harper on February 11th, while cruising Facebook for a most improbable pair to bring together. I would make an excellent personal assistant for you because I never, ever procrastinate. Also, I'm a thoroughly modern Cupid. Note my use of the Internet. I bet all the other cadets are out walking the streets. How archaic!

Every status on Abbie's profile centered on her daughter. Clearly, she focused on family instead of herself, but I sensed longing beneath these updates for something else. This young widow needed to find love again, but my candidate would have to be right under her nose. Like someone in her daughter's life.

Abbie had Friended the Vancouver, Washington school her seven-year-old daughter attended, and so I dug into the school's Friend list. Who did I find, you ask? The most unlikely match for her of all — Jake Cordalys. Yes, the guy is as sexy as they come, and certainly has no trouble finding the ladies, but true love has eluded him so far.

Jake's a substitute teacher in the school. Not a perfect match for Abbie. In fact, I'm certain no one but me could brew true love between a wealthy, young widow and a younger, poorer man, but I will make it happen. The impossible match!

Love this complicated takes time to sort out!

Sometimes true love needs help. Five Cupids take on a challenge this Valentine's season: To match the most unlikely couple they can find.

Love Transposed

by Pepper O'Neal and Chelsy Day

One arrow straight through two chests was all it took for Carpenter/Painter Dan, and business woman Jane to go from making each other crazy, to being crazy about each other.

Love Potion 2-14 by Pepper O'Neal

White witch Kole Trillion has a successful business, customers who swear by her potions and spells. Unfortunately, she also has the bad luck to fall in love with a man who doesn't believe in magic, Police Detective Gage Corwin.

The Bachelor by Heather Hiestand

Abbie Harper didn't mean to buy the date, but one look at Jake Cordalys and she's ready for red-hot romance. Jake is not looking for something complicated, but when Cupid is involved, all plans go out the window and romance flies in.

The Boss Wore Red

by Delle Jacobs and SamMarie Ashe

Alexandria Bergstrom was chosen because she desperately needed to alter the course of her life. Clint Riordan doesn't know what will make him completely happy until he meets Alexandria. By giving Alexandria this opportunity to discover her true past, the pairing of Alexandria and Clint will repair past mistakes and produce a new brighter future.

The Wrong Target by Sherry Gloag

Headmistress Tina Blackberry and Ryan Thomas can't control events after Ryan's daughter steals his coveted golden arrow and takes it to school, But put Cupid on the job and nothing can go wrong, or can it?

The Hollywood Hookup by Chelsy Day

Actor Casey Jones and stunt woman Sandra Benson have a history. Can Cupid get them past the animosity and prove that true love in Hollywood is NOT impossible?
